CONSULTANCY WORKS POLICY

- Faculty members are encouraged to initiate collaborations with external agencies that align with their expertise and the institution's objectives.
- The objective of the consultancy policy is to utilize their expertise in their respective domain towards offering consultancy-services, projects dealing with process improvement, policy formulation etc. which will help the faculty member gain reputation in the industry for both the individual-self as well as the institution.
- On successful collaboration and agreement through an MoU, the faculty member, serving as the Principal Consultant shall be entitled to receive appropriate incentive.
- Faculty members must obtain approval from the relevant authorities within the institution before entering into any consultancy agreement.
- All relevant documentation, including the MoU and project outcomes, should be maintained and submitted for institutional records.
- Faculty members should disclose any potential conflicts of interest arising from consultancy engagements, and the institution will assess and manage such conflicts appropriately.
- The policy permits for the use of institutional resources including faculty expertise, laboratory equipments and non-teaching staff members, as necessary for the successful execution of the consultancy project.
